

Your Legal Roadmap to Portugal

D7 & D8 Visa Comparison + Practical Checklist

Welcome

Are you considering relocating to Portugal, but unsure which visa suits your situation best? Whether you receive passive income or work remotely, this concise guide will help you understand the two most suitable residence options: the D7 Visa and the D8 Visa (Digital Nomad Visa).

Visa Comparison Table

Criteria	D7 Visa	D8 Visa (Digital Nomad)
Type of Income	Passive (e.g., pension, rent)	Active (remote work, freelance)
Minimum Income	€920/month (individual)	€3,680/month (net, main applicant)
Family Inclusion	Yes	Yes
Application Location	Portuguese Consulate abroad	Portuguese Consulate abroad
Ideal For	Retirees, landlords, investors	Remote workers, freelancers, entrepreneurs

Pre-Application Checklist

- Valid passport (minimum 6 months)
- Proof of stable income

- Portuguese bank account
- NIF (Portuguese tax number)
- Proof of accommodation in Portugal
- Private health insurance
- Criminal record certificate
- Apostilled and translated documents
- Visa application forms and payment

Common Mistakes to Avoid

- Confusing D7 and D8 eligibility requirements
- Providing weak or unstable proof of income
- Neglecting legal translations or apostilles
- Overlooking family reunification timing

Need Expert Support?

If you're ready to proceed, don't navigate the visa maze alone. I can support you with:

- Personalised visa strategy
- Document review and legal validation
- Family reunification roadmap
- Full legal assistance in Portugal

Book your private consultation:

<https://calendly.com/enquiries-vianaconsultancy/relocation-strategy-session>

Patrícia Viana, LL.B., PGDip

International Legal Consultant – Portugal Immigration Strategy

Postgraduate – University of Lisbon